Open Positions with No Fees for Applicants

- Top 5 Reasons Express Is the Best Step in Your Job Search
- No fees for applicants. Express Employment Professionals works with local companies instead of part-time full-time workers, giving you access to open positions in a variety of industries. We're confidential and never charge you a fee.
 - One application, multiple job openings. With one application, your skills and abilities are matched with local positions at multiple client companies. We'll help determine what companies feel are best fit for your skillset.
 - Two easy ways to complete your application. Call our office and we'll process your application over the phone. You can also complete the application directly on the ExpressPros.com website. Either way we'll bring you interviews to meet and connect you with local businesses looking for talented workers.
 - Express employs more than 525,000 people annually. Each office is locally owned and operated in the community.
 - Benefits available. When you work for Express, you're eligible for pay and may be eligible for benefits, including medical.

Evaluation Hire

70% of workers say they value benefits and company culture over salary.

There's a big difference between the right skills, and the right fit.

A candidate can check all the right boxes when it comes to experience, education, and expertise still not be the best choice for the job. Employee turnover is costly, so when a new hire doesn't out, the expenses associated with replacing them add up.

How does it work?
Evaluate our talented associates on the job in your work environment before you commit to bringing them on to your team staff.

What are the benefits?
After discussing the details of your open position, we'll send a qualified Express associate who meets your specific needs. Then, following a period of time, typically 30, 60, or 90 days, if you decide our associate is the right fit for the job, we'll transition them to your staff full-time.

Building brand equity

A brand goes beyond a company's name or symbol. Logos, trademarks, and service marks are all aspects of a brand—graphic elements that differentiate our company in the marketplace and make it more recognizable. But “brand” is more than what people see. It's the story our clients and associates tell their friends and families. A brand goes beyond the first impression, which may be the Express Employment Professionals logo or our local website, to how we interact with our customers and meet their expectations.

The importance of brand consistency

The Express Employment Professionals brand is the foundation of our business and an invaluable piece of our organization. Proper brand use and maintaining brand consistency across all locations is vital to strengthen our ability to differentiate ourselves from the competition and stand as a credible, trustworthy business. Consistency also ensures the Express brand does not become damaged.

Because effective branding is a powerful component that impacts the overall success of Express, Express Employment International created this Brand Guide to provide vendors the information and tools to ensure the integrity of the Express brand is maintained in all local markets.

Our name

What our name means

Our name enhances our position in the market and the way our audiences perceive us.

Express

In use since our founding, this word is the most recognizable part of our name. It illustrates the sense of urgency we feel in coming to the aid of our clients, job seekers, and associates.

Employment

This word is a big picture concept that helps represent all of our service lines. It also has positive associations with our audiences, suggesting a strong work ethic, personal fulfillment, and a healthy business community.

Professionals

This word has the personal touch. It identifies our company as a group of people. It reinforces our expertise and says that we deal with everyone in a professional way.

Express Employment Professionals

The Express logo

Our logo shows who we are

The logo is made of several parts, which work together to create a unique identity for Express that reflects our brand attributes.

Express

The rounded edges of the uppercase and lowercase type make it friendly and approachable. The overall clean, crisp lines of the logo convey the professional and driven aspects of the brand.

Employment Professionals

This type forms a simple, linear shape with a strong, professional look. It helps to anchor the open look of the word “Express” and reinforces the perception of motion in the stylized “X.”

Human element

The stylized “X” in Express, formed from checkmarks, depicts a person in action. This unique symbol communicates the convergence of professional efficiency, our human focus, and forward motion.

Logo asset collection

The Express Employment Professionals logo

The Express Employment Professionals logo may be used with the tagline or without. The logo may also be used with the corporate website address.

See pages 11–13 for Logo Usage Specifications.

The stylized “X”

In most instances, the full Express Employment Professionals logo will be used. However, the stylized “X” may be used on its own in some cases, like on promotional items or in designs associated with campaigns or events where the full logo is used elsewhere.

Incorrect usage examples

These examples apply to all Express logos.

All Express logos with the SM trademark symbol have been discontinued. Use of this logo must be updated to the correct logo with the ® as shown in this guide on page 11.

Our tagline

Our tagline helps to do in words what the logo does visually. The two parts work together effectively to speak to all of our audiences.

Respecting People.

This is a straightforward statement of how we treat people, and how we believe people should be treated. A key component of compassion is respecting people for who they are, their goals, and their concerns. Respecting people makes us approachable.

Impacting Business.

This is the professional and driven part of our Care Promise. We balance compassion with a sharp business sense that benefits ourselves, our Franchisees, and our communities.

Tagline use, style, and color

The tagline can be paired with the Express logo to create a strong, supporting message (see page 11) or it can be used as a stand-alone graphic like the example on this page.

When used with the logo or as a graphic, the tagline is set in Myriad Pro Roman, initial caps. The color version is PMS 2935 or the CMYK equivalent. The typeface used for the tagline has a clean approachable, modern, upright look that suits our brand's image.

If the tagline is used in text, it should be in the title case with periods after People and Business.

The tagline always appears with the TM trademark symbol.

Respecting People. Impacting Business.™

Design elements

Job representation photography

The design of Express materials includes photos of people who represent the broad range of jobs that our franchises recruit for. We use these photos in the design to help explain who Express is and what we do in a visual way.

All job representation photos depict employees in their work environments, like a business person in an office setting or a person in a warehouse, to help provide a point of reference. Some environmental backgrounds represent a wider variety of careers while others are job-specific.

Selection Process

Turnover can cost the employer as much as 150% of an employee's annual salary.
— Institute for Research on Labor and Employment

Our comprehensive selection process ensures top performers.

Hiring the right person for your team is just as important to us as it is to you. At Express Employment Professionals, we understand that you want to excel. So do we. Through our comprehensive selection process, we guarantee skilled professionals who meet your expectations and our standards.

Consistent Results

Each person we place completes our thorough ISO-registered selection process to make sure they not only fit the job description, but also your company culture. Before you ever see them, every Express associate goes through our evaluation and selection process, which includes:

- Applicant information verification
- Interview
- Skills evaluation
- Employment verification
- Hiring decision
- Matching and assignment to meet client's needs

Service Lines

Express can place top talent in a wide range of roles, including:

- Office Services
- Light Industrial
- Skilled Trades
- Professional

LOCALLY OWNED

We're locally owned and operated with the support and stability of an international headquarters with four decades of staffing and HR expertise. It's the best of both worlds—small business flexibility, big company resources.

All photos used in Express marketing, advertising, and communications materials are high-quality, professional images to which Express Employment International and its franchises subsidiaries have rights to use.

Design elements

Arch

This arch element is used to make the content more engaging by adding movement to the design. The arch can be used in a variety of ways offering flexibility in the layout.

Repeated stylized “X”

The design element with the repeating X-man avatar serves to reinforce the Express brand.

Use of vibrant color

Our design palette includes the use of several color gradients which make the design more fun and versatile. The vibrant colors bring the design to life and accentuate the work environment photography.

Quotes and statistical information

In many of our marketing materials, quotes and statistics are used to emphasize information. These call-outs are set in larger white type on gradients to draw the reader’s attention.

Typography

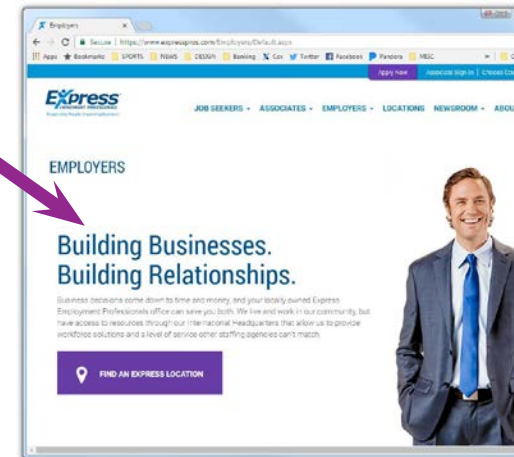

Marketing collateral materials

The typeface used for Express collateral materials is Proxima Nova. This typeface family consists of multiple fonts, which allows for the use of various weights and styles to visually separate different textual elements like headlines, sub-headlines, body copy, and statistical information. This helps provide a visual hierarchy and contributes to how the eye should navigate the page and what text should attract attention first. The typeface offers a modern and trendy look, while maintaining simplicity to connect with the viewer.

Proxima Nova
Roboto

The Express website

Because the typeface used in our marketing collateral materials is not a web-safe font, a different typeface called Roboto is used for ExpressPros.com and the franchise websites. As with our printed marketing materials, different styles of the Roboto typeface family are used throughout the Express website to separate different textual elements.

A graphic titled 'Temporary Staffing'. The top left shows a woman in a warehouse setting wearing a grey hoodie and blue gloves, working with red and blue crates. To the right of the image is a purple-to-orange gradient box containing the text: 'Express Employment Professionals is ISO-registered and places more than 550,000 talented workers annually across all industries and at all levels of business.' Below the image and text is a large blue curved banner with the headline: 'A strong temporary workforce strategy means uninterrupted productivity.' Underneath the banner is a paragraph: 'From unexpected disruptions to proactive planning ahead of your busy season—there are many situations businesses encounter that can be addressed by building an effective temporary workforce strategy.'

Express office signs

Office drive-by and signage exposure are among the top five sources for attracting new applicants into our offices, so we place high importance on installing visible, professional signs on Express office exteriors.

Sign specifications

Sign specifications should be obtained from the property manager to determine exterior sign needs. If there are no required sign specs from the property manager, then a local sign company should survey the office location. The sign company will also need to research city codes and pull permits.

Sign requirements

There are no restrictions from Express Employment International on the type of sign that must be installed at Express office locations. The variety of sign types displayed at current franchise locations include, but are not limited to, channel letter, cabinet, and tenant panel. However, the Express Employment Professionals logo must be used on all signage and meet logo usage specifications (see pages 11 to 13).

We do not recommend using taglines or accent colors as these could change every few years.

Approved colors and materials

Express Employment Professionals signs should utilize the three colors of blue as outlined in this guide. Being aware that the sign industry utilizes different color systems than the printing industry, the sign company can use the closest matches to the three colors of blue used in the Express logo. To the right are other color equivalents to the PMS colors used in the Express logo.

The Express Employment Professionals logo may not be used in any other colors than the approved blues or all white. If the signage specifications from the property manager or city codes require signage to be produced in colors that are not approved, the Express Employment Professionals logo may not be used on the sign.
